WINE FOR THE WORLD

BOSMAN

Family Vineyards

“The ideal has always been to create a wine, if possible in a certain vintage, that encompasses the essence of that vintage. It should show off the very best wines of that year in one exclusive blend”

- Corlea Fourie, Winemaker

Every year when tasting through the barrels one is confronted by a few barrels that just shine! Within any group of barrels there is usually that one wine that just shows its colors best. It is also not always within the same cultivar group.

We would like to think that the vintage decides the odds of the blend. The winemaker only picks the best of what is available. The blend evolved through multiple blending exercises and is a true reflection of our ode to harvest 2011.

ORIGIN

Wellington, South Africa
